

Aerobic Miles PROGRAM

Good health doesn't just happen. It is the result of healthy living each day. According to recommendations from The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM), "Every adult should accumulate 30 minutes or more of moderate-intensity physical activity on most, preferably all, days of the week." Using the steps in the FITT Principle, develop a physical activity regimen you would like to follow.

The FITT Principle

The FITT principle refers to: Frequency, Intensity, Type, and Time. When developing your goals, keep the FITT principle in mind. By changing one or more of these variables each week, you will soon feel better, look better, and have more endurance.

Tips to Help You Reach Your Fitness Goal

1. Choose moderate-intensity activities you enjoy.

By choosing activities that you enjoy, you will be more likely to stick with them. Add new activities every few weeks to help yourself stay motivated.

2. Start with small steps. Set goals that challenge you but that you are confident you can accomplish.

3. Log your progress daily. It helps to keep you on track – and seeing progress is motivating! (See included Physical Activity Log).

4. Gradually increase the time spent doing an activity. Adding a few minutes to your physical activity every day or week, will help you reach the recommended minimum of 30 minutes of physical activity per day in no time!

5. Reevaluate your progress often. Do more of what is working. If something isn't working, try a new approach.

6. Vary your activities. This will help hold your interest, and broaden the range of benefits. Try exploring new activities on a regular basis.

7. Be optimistic. Think positively. You can do it!

8. Enlist an exercise buddy. Having someone to exercise with will help you to maintain your self-discipline and make exercise more fun.

Tips for People Who Have Been Inactive for a While

If...	Then...
You do not currently engage in regular physical activity	Begin by incorporating a few minutes of physical activity into each day, gradually building up to 30 minutes or more of moderate-intensity activities, such as walking.
You are now active, but less than the recommended levels	Try to be more consistent: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Aim for moderate-intensity physical activity for 30 minutes or more on 5 or more days of the week, or ■ Choose vigorous-intensity physical activity for 20 minutes or more on 3 or more days of the week.
You currently engage in moderate-intensity activities for at least 30 minutes on 5 or more days of the week	You may achieve even greater health benefits by increasing the time spent or intensity of those activities.
You currently engage in vigorous-intensity activities 20 minutes or more on 3 or more days of the week	Keep up the good work. Add new activities occasionally to keep your fitness program interesting.

Aerobic Mile EQUIVALENTS

The following list details the minutes of sustained activity that equals the exertion of running one mile. For example, 30 minutes of vigorous walking yields benefits similar to running 2 miles. If you have not been exercising at all, you should try to begin with physical activity equal to 6 miles a week then gradually work up to 10 or 15.

Find the activities that appeal to you and get started!
